

THE THEATRES

POLI'S

As the stock season draws to a close Poli's that artistic talent that is to vie with himself in getting together the attraction for these last weeks. Next week "Lovers Lane" is the bill and in the cast of characters every member of the great stock company has a "star" part. The play of itself is one of the many masterpieces of that famous author, C. H. Fitch, and the very atmosphere surrounding it breathes the fragrance of the home, the quaint village, the dear old fashioned romance with their happy ending. It is an interesting story, and has a good deal of wholesome comedy in every act.

Every part too, as said before, is a star one, and Bridgeport's All Star Stock Company will be given an opportunity collectively as well as individually, to establish that well known fact, conceded on all sides, that we have the very best.

Standing strong, and without doubt one of the best roles in the piece, is "Simplicity Johnson," the orphan, from the asylum. It is a grand part and will be interpreted by that dainty little Poli favorite, Betty Waldron. This is Miss Allison's original creation and she is sure of a hearty welcome all the week. The cast is well rounded and augmented by several new faces brought on from New York for this production of "Lovers Lane," and in addition there will be seen one of Bridgeport's young aspirants for historic fame. They will all help to make the school scene, a great one.

JACKSON'S

Something so far a departure as to bring fresh vitality into the function of negro minstrelsy is said to have been accomplished by George H. Primrose, whose triumphal entry into a new field of black face comedy and pictorial effort ought to fill Jackson's theatre, formerly Smith's, with a Sunday evening. The feeble attempts in days gone by to lift minstrelsy out of the fin-de-siecle despondency it reached when the old timers began to disappear and disappear was tolerably ludicrous, though well meant, and only now, after years of fumbling have one of the survivors and he is about the finest, made a stunning base, for George Primrose and his great Minstrel Company are this year credited with about as exceptional and brilliant an entertainment as could possibly be gotten together with money and brains. Money has been spent in large bundles it is said on this year's production and the result is a new local theatre-goers will be treated to a genuine surprise in both talent and production—in fact the name of Primrose has never been identified with anything but the best in minstrelsy and in this year's production far surpasses himself. The sale of seats opened this morning.

STEEPLECHASE

The usual Saturday night display of fireworks will be given at Steeplechase Island tonight and tomorrow. Captain Boyton has planned an unusually attractive program of free feature acts, aside from the concerts of the Coast Artillery band and evening, and the appearance of the Detroit Americans, one of the most famous baseball teams in the country, in an exhibition game with the Orators at 8:30.

Hurricane, the fastest trotting ostrich in the world, is the headliner. He is 10 feet high, weighs 400 pounds, and besides being one of the largest is the fleetest footed of his race. A live ostrich is a novelty in this section, but one of these magnificent birds harnessed to a sulky, driven like a horse, and covering the ground in strides of from 12 to 15 feet, is surely a novel spectacle. Hurricane will try for a record up and down the trail tomorrow afternoon and again in the evening.

Another new feature tomorrow will be the performance of Prof. Wormwood's Dog and Monkey circus, in charge of Miss Wormwood. These little animals do many amusing and skillful tricks and please the young and old alike. The last performance of Webb's seals and sea lion band, a first class act in every respect, will be presented tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The annual baby show, decorated with garlands and young girls' white dress carnival takes place Tuesday of next week. Mothers should send in their entries at once. Blankets and free and all necessary information from the special information bureau at Smith, Murray & Co.'s store. The prize list is being distributed to the former baby shows. There will be a Singer sewing machine for the handiwork baby, and 30 other prizes, 10 gold chainette watches for the girls in each class in the white dress parade, besides dolls and toys for every child at the island Tuesday. Full information for contestants is given in the entry blanks. For the white dress carnival no hats are worn and but white dresses and neatness in style of hair and make up. Children from 4 to 14 years can enter.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought
Beware of cheap imitations.
No Relief from Traction Engines—
The Beach Season—Young People's Concert—Cottage Guests—Fresh Items.

Those citizens who appealed to legislators at Hartford to enact some kind of a law which would prevent the use of traction engines on the highways are likely to meet with disappointment. Men well versed in the law say no such statute can be passed, for if one should get through the courts would annul it by deciding it to be unconstitutional, on the ground of discriminating legislation against a class. It is forbidden by the general law. It appears that traction engines have come to be regarded as necessary in several kinds of business.

The N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. for instance, uses them frequently for hauling dirt, stone, heavy loads of iron, ties, etc. And it is known that during the next five years the state will spend some fifteen million dollars on its roads, and the intention is to have a train of trucks running through the center of every town in the state. Many of the contractors who are engaged in building the roads are using traction engines for hauling crushed stone, gravel, sand, etc., and to force them to go back to the old slow and costly system of horse and mule teams would be both costly and slow. For these reasons no bill is likely to be thrown at Hartford restraining the use of traction engines.

Something like 25 new cottages have been built along the beach of this town during the past year. In a short time at this rate the lots will be occupied. Mr. Wiley of Danbury is now building a new cottage next door to the Hawthorne. It is becoming quite the thing to have a cottage at the beach and at least five are in commission. It has been proposed by the owners of these cottages to take an outing some moonlight night in August, and run down to Southport. Another proposition is to run a motor boat from the beach to the Penfield pier of light house and back with excursion parties. Crabbing is now very good in Pine Creek. Yesterday a gentleman caught 60 crabs. The concert given on Thursday evening at the Congregational church by the young people proved to be very successful and drew a large audience. A silver collection was taken which amounted to $25. A chorus of young girls sang three times, the young ladies being Ruth Child, Mabel Perry, Helen and Louise Forsythe, Grace and May West, Mabel Ferris, Iva King, Elsie and Amy Jennings, Amy Childs and Dorothy Smith. Solos were sung by Maud Perry and Ruth Child. There was a piano duet by Mr. Putnam and Louise Forsythe. A quartet of young men, composed of Andrew Huntington, John Buckingham, Arthur Deyo and Roger Smith, gave some excellent songs and Mr. Swann played the piano in his usual artistic manner. Mr. Dawson Glover also presided at the piano, and there was a recitation by Miss King, who gave a selection from Charles Kingsley.

Guests now at the Hawthorne cottage include Mrs. Decknetel of Jersey City, Miss Sherwood of Easton, Miss M. Hayes of Stepeny, Mrs. William B. Patten, Robert Patten and John Mahon, all of Jersey City. Mrs. Douglas and family and Mrs. Brighton and family of the same city. Thus far the season at this cottage has been good, but a rush is expected during August. A recent blow up took the raft which had been launched for a bathing float and landed it high on the sandy beach where it now is. A story current recently that there had been a daring rescue on the beach, pronounced by those who live there as having no foundation in fact. No one has been in danger, and there has been no necessity for a rescue of any kind.

On Wednesday last the Greenfield Hill Sunday school enjoyed a picnic at Roton Point. Tomorrow evening there will be a prize service at the Congregational church on Greenfield Hill for the extensive preparations have been made.

Miss Clara Wells of Noroton, is visiting on Congress street.
